GOTHAM GUARDS INGRESS TO CITY

Police Force Augmented and Efforts Redoubled to Check Crime

HEADED WHISKY RING

Eastman Says Report Had "Gone Straight" For Ten YearsFour Robbers Sentenced

New York, Dec. 28.—Placing of every railroad, street car, ferry and highway entrance into the city under special police guard and the calling out of 650 embryonic policemen for final training were announced by Police Commissioner Enright last night as the latest measures to check New York's tide of outlawry.

Police previously had been ordered to halt, question and search, if necessary, all suspicious characters and to seek explanations from all persons found in unfrequented thoroughfares between the hours of midnight and dawn.

Instructors of the police "rookie" organization were directed to "speed up" the training of the 650 men so that the force might be augmented as soon as possible.

Meanwhile the department, fearing another gang feud as a result of the murder of "Monk" Eastman, former notorious gang leader and war hero, yesterday exerted themselves in an attempt to establish the identity of his slayer.

A theory that Eastman, as the head of a "whisky ring" met death as a result of a quarrel with associates over division of profits was being investigated. In this connection the police instituted a search for a woman known as "Lottie," said to be one of "Monk's intimates."

Charles Jones, with whom Eastman was associated in an automobile business after the war, said today he was endeavoring to locate the gangster's sister. He added that he would "see to it that Eastman has a good funeral and there will be a lot of good men there to show their friendship toward him." Jones asserted Eastman "had gone straight" since he left prison 10 years ago and he knew of no reason why he should have been slain.

Eastman was the seventh noted gang leader to be slain in recent years.

"Big Jack" Zelig was killed by another gangster known as "Boston Red" Davison, who shot him in an open Third Avenue trolley in 1912. "Eat-Em-Up Jack" McManus, was found in 1905 near an elevated station on the Bowery, his head smashed by a piece of lead pipe. "Kid" Twist was lured outside a Coney Island dance hall in the summer of 1909 and shot to death by Louis Poggi, a mere youngster among gangsters. "Tanner" Smith was shot by a gang while seated at a West Side poker table in 1910. "Rubber" Shaw, believed to have instigated "Tanner's" death, was shot down in Hoboken two days later. "Johnny Spanish," noted two-gunman of former days, was shot down in broad daylight shortly after "Tanner" met his fate.

50,000 Seals Sold

Splendid Showing By Anti-Tuberculosis Society

The Alexandria Anti-Tuberculosis Association finished some days ago the sale of the fifty thousand Christmas seals which it had undertaken this year, and wishes to thank all those who contributed so generously to the success of the work in this locality.

Last year forty thousand seals were requisitioned and disposed of through the efforts of the local association, but this season, the members of the board felt confident that more could be accomplished so ordered ten thousand additional. It has been proved that their confidence in the response which the people of Alexandria would make to this appeal, was not misplaced. One half the amount secured from the sale of these seals, it should be remembered, will be used locally in helping to support the visiting nurse which the society has maintained for many years.

Income And Profits Taxes Fall off $314,059,133 For Last Six Months

Washington, Dec. 28.—Income and profits tax receipts for the last quarter of the year exceeded Secretary Houston's early estimate of $650,000,000, according to the daily statement of the nation's finances for December 23, made public yesterday by the Treasury.

On that date income and profits tax payments for the month amounted to $650,602,546, as compared with $824,178,191 for the corresponding period a year ago. Treasury officials declared that some increase in the total could be expected, as there was still a week to be accounted for.

Receipts from income and profits taxes since June 1 total $1,608,135,297, according to the Treasury's statement, as against $1,922,194,430 for the corresponding period last year.

Lead Inaugural March

Gen. Pershing, Commander of A. E. F. Accepts Invitation to Head Parade Here

Washington, D. C., Dec. 28.—Gen. John J. Pershing, ranking officer of the army, last night wired E. B. McLean, chairman of the general committee on the Harding inaugural that he would be glad to accept the post of grand marshal for the parade and act as chairman of the committee on military affairs. The offer was tendered Gen. Pershing during a holiday stay at Roslyn, N. Y. Committee members declared after receipt of this information that this would be the greatest parade in inaugural history.

In announcing the appointment of Miss Mary H. Patten, George O. Vass and J. E. Bates as vice chairman of the inaugural finance committee, Chairman Milton E. Ailes yesterday declared the committee's intention of raising the needed guarantee fund of $100 000 for March 4 festivities, if possible, during the present week.

Socials By Y. M. C. A.

First For Next Year Saturday, January 8

The Y. M. C. A. community socials at the Westminister building are to be continued on Saturday nights. This was decided at the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the "Y" last night at the Westminster Building.

Mrs. Charles J. Deahl, first vice president of the auxiliary, was in the chair in the absence of the president, and a full report of the six socials held before the holidays was made by the social committee. It was reported that the socials had had a splendid attendance and had really met a community need, and it was considered advisable from every stand point to continue them.

The first social of the New Year will be held at the Westminster building Saturday evening January 8, 1921. The nature of the program has not been entirely decided uopn but it is thought that it will follow closely the ones held before the holidays. Practically every young peoples' society in the city has been enlisted in the work.

The auxiliary also decided at the meeting last night to hold an oyster supper the evening of February 3, 1921. This supper will be in the interest of a special social and educational fund being largely fostered by the auxiliary.

ITALIAN FLEET TURN GUNS ON FIUME

Bombardment Directed so as to Damage City as Little as Possible

D'ANNUNZIO WOUNDED

Fierce Fighting in Environs of Poet's Stronghold is Reported—Poet Flies Over Lines.

Trieste, Dec. 28.—The regulars, under General Caviglia, are bombarding Fiume in combination with the navy, a systematic siege being under way. The guns are being directed against the barracks, the palace and similar buildings, the intention being to damage the city as little as possible.

The casualties sustained by the regulars in the fighting with D'Annunzio's legionaires up to the present are reported to be 30 killed and about 100 wounded. The wounded include several carabineer officers. The rebel forces have blown up four bridges over the Recina, dispatches from Rome say.

Dispatches from Fiume say the legionaires in the city, using electric drills, are boring holes under the principal buildings in the leading thoroughfares through which the invading troops must pass and are mining them. They say it is their intention to blow up the town rather than surrender it, the report adds.

A steamer has arrived at Zara with the Rismondo and Carnaro batallions on board. All the men were disarmed and are being closely watched by carabineers. The royal guards' barracks are being prepared for the purpose of holding the men prisoners there.

Venice, Dec. 28.—The reports of the death of Gabriele d'Annunzio spread quickly throughout Venice today. The Italian colors on the flagstaff in St. Martin Square were immediately half masted and soon afterward the flags on private houses throughout the city were lowered.

According to some reports received here D'Annunzio was only wounded and was taken to a hospital.

One report says that, notwithstanding the absence of D'Annunzio, fighting continues, the Legionaires trying to prevent the passage of the regular troops, which are composed chiefly of carabineers. It is asserted that the battleship Andrea Doria participated in the operations against Fiume by firing grenades, which killed several persons. One of the grenades struck the torpedoboat destroyer Espero, setting the vessel on fire.

London, Dec. 28.—Gabriele d'Annunzio is said to have been slightly wounded, according to the Milan correspondent of the London Times. The report that D'Annunzio has been killed, the correspondent adds, is officially denied.

Fierce fighting is proceeding in the environs of Fiume, say London Times dispatches from Milan, and the losses to the regulars are very heavy, among the casualties being two colonels mortally wounded.

D'Annunzio flew over the lines Sunday dropping leaflets from his airplane calling on the regulars to desert. The poet's troops have transformed the houses in the public gardens into machine gus nests, which have been effective in stopping the Government forces. All the main streets are defended by barbed wire barricades.

An instance is related in which the legionaires made a desperate stand in an armored car, which the regulars succeeded in seizing after killing three and wounding two of the occupants. The resistance encountered by Caviglia's troops apparently is unexpectedly strong and the capture of Fiume has been considerably delayed by the poet's defense.

Paris, Dec. 28.—Fumian legionaires and Dalmatian volunteers at Zara, a port south of Fiume on the Dalmatian coast, have surrendered to Italian regulars, after failing in an attempt to capture the Italian warship Marsala. The volunteers boarded the vessel, but the crew resisted capture and seized 27 of the legionaires, landing them at Ancona, an Italian port on the western side of the Adriatic, says a Havas dispatch.

Modern Girl is Lowbrow Where Books Are Concerned, Experts Say

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Take it from the librarians assembled here from all parts of the country, the modern girl is a lowbrow. She is strong for knee frocks, she is admittedly pretty and wears tortoise shell campus wind shields, but when it comes to literature, anything deeper than the lightest of fluffy stuff, she is not there.

"Oh, look!" she says to the patient librarian, "I've got to read some books. It's for my English IV semi-finals. Look, have you got" "The Four Horsemen with the Erysipelas," by that Spanish caveman? And I want a book of poetry, too, something kind of jazzy, see?"

War books, immensely popular a year ago, are now gathering cobwebs on the library shelves, while the reading public is devouring works on spiritualism, occultism and new thought.

The demand for fiction shows a marked decline The hundreds of thousands of returned war veterans demand books on vocational training, including engineering medicine and agriculture. As for the college students, the librarians say, they read little outside their prescribed courses and the newspapers, with an occasional magazine article some one else has recommended.

George T. Settle, head of the Louisville Free Public Library, says the people of Kentucky are going in strong for books on spiritualism.

Henry O. Severance, librarian at the University of Missouri, finds a big demand for books on plumbing, agriculture, engineering and chemistry. He says long days and nights in trenches and dugouts in Europe taught the American boys the habit of serious reading and they are continuing, now that they are out of the service.

Denies Increase

Corporation Commission Refuses Roslyn Gas Co.

In an opinion handed down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission yesterday, the Rosslyn Gas Company, of Rosslyn, was refused an increase in gas rate. The present rate, which will remain in effect, is $1.50

According to the opinion, which was written by Major Alexander Forward, the company is collecting two profits from the consumer, the aggregate of both being sufficient to give a just refund. The company, it is claimed is a subsidiary of a company operating in Washington. The subsidiary company manufactures no gas, and simply pipes what its customers use across the boundry into the State and charges a profit for the trouble. This, in the opinion of the commission, together with the profit made by the manufacturing company, is a reasonable profit.

65,000 VIRGINIANS TO PAY INCOME TAX

Richmond Office of Revenue Department Collects 30,000 Since July

BLANKS READY SOON

Washington Advises They Are to be Distributed Early in January—Those Who Paid Last Year on List

Richmond, Va., Dec. 28.—Approximately 65,000 persons in Virginia and some 6,000 corporations and business concerns will file income tax statements next year, it was estimated by officials in the United States Internal Revenue Department here yesterday. This will be the first time that the returns for the entire State will be received in Richmond, as formerly the State was divided into two districts and has only recently been consolidated.

At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, the internal revenue derived by the government from this district and actually collected through the Richmond office amounted to $80.000,000, it was stated yesterday. For the first five and a half months of this fiscal year the Richmond office has already received in income tax returns about $30,000 000, it is stated.

Dispatches received yesterday from Washington were to the effect that blanks for returns are now being prepared and will be forwarded to the Richmond office early in January for distribution. The department has a record of every person and corporation in the State which paid income tax last year and a blank will be forwarded at once to each person or corporation which formerly paid income tax.

Failure to receive such a blank, however, the department advises, does not release the person who is eligible to pay income tax, from his responsibility. March 15 is the last day for the filing of such returns. The two Virginia departments were consolidated on July 1.

Naval Hospital and will be brought here and taken to Wheatley's mortuary chapel. The burial will be made in Arlington National Cemetery Thursday.

The deceased was about twenty-two years old and a carpenters' mate in the United States Navy. He was killed in France while inspecting the ruins of an old shell torn building. According to reports Windsor picked up a piece of iron pipe containing a tube and when he endeavored to remove the tube an explosion followed killing him instantly.

The deceased was a son of Mrs. Julia and the late Edward Windsor of this city and he entered the navy a short time after the war was declared.

FRANCE TO SELL FLEET OF MERCHANT VESSELS

Paris, Dec. 28.—The Government has introduced a bill for the liquidation of the merchant fleet built or bought during the war to assure transport which was jeopardized by the submarine warfare. The Government continued to manage the ships during the transition period after the war, but considering that no useful purpose was being served in operating them longer, has decided to sell off the ships in groups.

A committee to be appointed by the Under Secretary of the merchant marine will assist the technical experts in directing the liquidation. Certain categories of the ships will be reserved for French buyers on condition that there is no transfer of nationality without the sanction of the French Government.

The others, chiefly wooden ships built in America to the order of the Under Secretary, will be sold to all comers.

The bill stipulates that the liquidation must be completed by June 30, 1922.

ONE KILLED, FORTY INJURED IN PITTSBURGH WRECK

Pittsburgh, Dec. 28.—One man was killed and more than fifty persons were injured, several seriously, when a trailer attached to a street car broke loose on a Forbes Street grade in the Oakland district here last night, dashed down the hill, and crashed into another car. Both cars were crowded with persons on their way to their homes in Oakland, East Liberty and Wilkinburg from their work in the downtown section.

The accident occurred at Lawn and Forbes streets three squares away from the point where the trailer disengaged itself from the lead car When the trailer broke loose at Craft Avenue, and started to back down the grade the passengers became panic stricken. In the rush for the doors a stove was overturned and a slight fire resulted. The passengers crowded against the exits, and after the trailer struck the other car at Lawn street it was impossible to open the doors.

TAXES AND HEALTH TOPICS DISCUSSED

Commissioner of Revenue Callahan and Health Officer Foulks Speakers

BEFORE NEW VOTERS

3,100 Men in City Assessed for Capitation Taxes—Review of Work Accomplished With Taxes.

Charles H. Callahan, commissioner of revenue, and Dr. Louis E. Foulks, city health officer, addressed a meeting of the League of Women Voters last night, at the Chamber of Commerce, on the work of their respective offices in the city.

Miss Rose M. MacDonald, the chairman of the league, presided, and in introducing Mr. Callahan announced the object of the women is to study the laws governing the city to be in a position to vote intelligently and take an active part in the city afairs, for the advancement of Alexandria in every way.

Mr. Callahan gave an instructive talk that every woman in the city should have heard. He said the tax question is so tremendous it is impossible to discuss it in all its phases, at one meeting, but among a few of his remarks were some of especial interest, as follows:

The capitation tax in Alexandria is lower than in Jefferson district and Washington district of Arlington county, and of this tax fifty cents goes direct to the schools, and one dollar to the state general fund for school purposes.

In the spring each woman will receive an interrogatory to be filled in and returned to the commissioner of revenue, and any voter who fails to receive such a blank, should secure one, as it is a most necessary part of the taxation system.

Important things for women to know is when to give in tax returns, when to pay and how to give in their returns. The list will be gotten out about February and should be gone over carefully and returned to Mr. Callahan.

To be qualified voters all capitation taxes must be paid on or before the first of December of each year.

OPEN OR CLOSED SHOP

It is evident that the question of open or closed shop is the industrial issue of the immediate future. Both sides are lining up for the struggle. Some big corporations hostile to organized labor have taken the aggressive. Labor as yet has made no counter move. The situation calls for an unusual display of fairness, open-mindedness and clear thinking on the part of the general public, whose opinion prevails in the long run.

The case has been put very well by Abba Hillel Silver, a Jewish rabbi who is a deep student of industrial problems.

"To call the open shop the 'American plan,' and to imply that any other arrangement is un-American," he says, "is unmitigated balderdash. The workingman's right to organize at a time when business is locally and nationally organized, when farmers and professional men have their organizations, cannot be questioned. The workingman will not surrender his only safeguard against exploitation and the one agency which has achieved for him all that he values."

Must the close shop, then be accepted by employers? Not necessarily, says Rabbi Silver. "Until such time as labor develops leaders of vision and capacity, when the palpable abuses of union labor are removed and its interest embraces the problem of increased production as well as wages and hours, the American public while favoring trade unionism and collective bargaining, cannot endorse the closed shop.

"The alternative is not the closed shop, but the shop where the employees who are organized shall have the right to bargain collectively through their own representatives, or one where the union has a preferential position."

This would be a real "open shop." It is, in fact, substantially what employers usually profess to mean by that term, though in practice they tend to ignore the labor unions or actively oppose them, or even, as in the case of some of the big steel companies, deny them employment altogether.

The ideal situation, according to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and various other progressive employers, would be the complete organization of labor and capital both, and collective bargaining made the universal rule, with the government empowered to intervene in case of dispute. Pending the attainment of that ideal, the kind of open shop described may be the best makeshhift.

"SHE GOETH TO THE GRAVE"

If plans now pending are fulfilled, members of the National War Mothers' Association will make a trip to the battlefields of France and Belgium next summer, sailing on a specially chartered ship early in June.

This will be no common sight-seeing jaunt. It will be a pilgrimage unique in history. Whatever can be done should be, and doubtless will be, to smooth the way of these mothers who go to visit the scenes where their boys fought and where many of them lie buried.

One reason why so many parents have been insistent that their sons' bodies be brought home was that Europe seemed far away and hopelessly inaccessible. Tours like the one proposed should help to abolish this feeling, to comfort and reconcile those who have decided for any reason to let their boys rest overseas and should bring the nations whose sons fought side by side into closer friendship than ever.

The recently enfranchised women who paid their taxes this past fall, paid for the year 1921 though they were given the right of suffrage this year, but in future they must take care of their taxes before December first.

The city tax was formerly due on July first, but recently the lists have not been ready before September first, which will probably be the date in future.

Mr. Callahan stated there are 5,100 capitation assessments against men and doubtless the same number against women, and the increased revenue should allow for further improvements. When the city is reviewed, though, it will be seen that great progress has been made. The first really progressive work began in 1902, when the street paving started, previous to that time the city had no modern improvements. Since then, a number of the streets have been paved, the Reliance Engine house has been built, the new truck house built, Lee School, the High School and the Parker-Gray School built, the city has an up to date health department, a new and up to the minute fire department, two of the most necessary assets in any city, and increased police department, and each year $5,000 goes in to the sinking fund. In fact, in review, the citizens of Alexandria have no right to complain of the benefit received.

Dr. Foulks followed Mr. Callahan and gave a resume of the work of the health department, showing how any city is benefitted by the work of such a department, the inspection work safeguarding the health of the city at every turn, giving statistics showing the decrease in communicable diseases in the past few years.

Dr. Foulks' talk was most interesting and was greatly appreciated, and a rising vote of thanks was given both he and Mr. Callahan for their excellent addresses.

A short business session was held, at which a letter was read from the National League of Women Voters, and every woman present was requested to secure new members, as each woman coming into the organization before January first will be a charter member.

Miss Dora Taylor and Mrs. Frederick G. Duvall were appointed a committee to draw up resolutions endorsing the Near East Relief, and members of the league can send contributions for that cause to either of these ladies. Mrs. M. L. Horner moved the league assume the responsibility of one orphan. Though no definite action was taken on this matter, the league will doubtless consider Mrs. Horners' motion favorably at the next meeting.

THIEVES STEAL RELIC OF MARY, QUEEN OF SCOTS

New York, Dec. 28.—A gold medallion believed to have been worn by Mary, Queen of Scots, on the day of her execution was taken by burglars who wrecked the interior of Maj. and Mrs. E. C. Kavanaugh's apartment at 681 West End avenue Sunday afternoon or evening.

The medallion, which Major and Mrs. Kavanaugh intended presenting to the Metropolitan Museum of Art this week, was of great historic value and was a wedding gift to Mrs. Kavanaugh from Dr. Carvallo, the French historian, whose wife is Miss Anna Coleman, of Philadelphia. On one side was a representation of Christ's face and on the other the Virgin and the Christ Child.

The burglars also made away with the silver medal of honor given Maj. Kavanaugh by the French government for his work as chief of the auxiliary workshops during the war, a pin made up of 17 diamonds, two platinum pins set with diamonds, a Seventh Regiment pin of pearls and platinum, a solitaire diamond ring and an antique gold watch and twelve scarf pins, some of them set with diamonds and pearls.

AMERICAN ACTRESS FOUND DEAD IN PARIS HOME

Paris, Dec. 28.—Mrs. Halley Peck Whatley, an American actress, was found dead in her apartment in the Rue Marceau yesterday. The police decided she committed suicide by drinking a strong solution of veronal, a drug used to induce sleep. They said she had made two attempts to take her life, once with poison and again by cutting her wrists.

She came to Paris about a year ago to get a divorce, it is understood, and the theory is that brooding over domestic trouble led to her act. Mrs. Whatley was 31 years old and was born in Louisville, Ky.

LUMBER JACKS THRIVE ON WOOD ALCOHOL

Boston, Dec. 28.—A run on the denatured alcohol supply of a paint shop in the North End by lumber jacks who disregarded a skull and and crossbones warning that the stuff was deadly poison, caused a revocation yesterday of the license of the Albert K. Sheldon Company, wholesale paint and varnish dealers, to sell wood alcohol and denatured alcohol. Health Commissioner William C. Woodward, who issued the order said it was due to reckless and careless sale.

The commissioner said sales of the denatured alcohol were made from the company's store without proper inquiry. Lumber jacks seeking employment at a bureau next door were found to have a plentiful source of supply, and investigation disclosed many empty bottles. These bottles, the commissioner said, bore labels with the name of the Sheldon Company below cautionary notices that the contents constituted a deadly poison that would cause blindness if taken internally.

MANY SUICIDES MARK SPREAD OF FAMINE

Peking, Dec. 28.—Deaths from starvation, suicide and murder are beginning to take their toll from China's famine sufferers. Catholics and Protestants are united in their efforts to aid the unfortunates but they are handicapped by lack of funds and an insufficient number of relief workers, so they can save but a small proportion of the millions who are doomed to die.

The distress in China is well illustrated by the following extract from a letter written by Sister Guerlain, a nun at the French Hospital at Chengting-su.

There a handful of nuns are sheltering 2,056 aged famine victims in a space normally used by 50. The nuns are aided by the strongest of their charges in building shacks for the fast rising tide of famine sufferers.

You should know of the evils which accompany a famine here—the sale of children, young girls and young wives, and of the despair of so many who take poison with their last morsel of food or who commit suicide by hanging.

"Take, for instance, the case of one family when members failed to appear for some days. Neighbors went to look them up. They found the doors of the house locked. Breaking their way in, they found the father had killed his five children, hanged his wife and then himself.

"A poor widower had a daughter only 5 years of age. Three times he went to the market (unfortunately there are markets where boys and girls and grown up girls are sold like beasts of burden) and thrice offered to sell the girl for $3. None would buy. He then dug a pit and attempted to bury the girl alive. She struggled, whereupon the unfortunate father brained her with a shovel.

"The French Minister sent me $2,000 which enabled me to buy, at a very high price, a wagonload of millet, and we were able to feed our people for 17 days. We are now at our ropes end unless money comes in from other sources."

From throughout the famine districts come similar letters and appeals.

Unemployed Here May Pass 2,000,000 Mark

Washington, Dec. 28.—An approximate estimate of the unemployed in the United States, with some idea of whether the idleness promises to be temporary or long standing, will be embodied in a report to be made public on January 15 by the United States Employment Service.

For the purposes of the survey, the country has been divided into nine districts heretofore included in the activities of the bureau. The field workers have been engaged in making the canvass of the principal industrial cities and the larger towns in their field, with instructions to report to Washington by January 15.

After this survey has been given to the public the bureau will confine its activities to the usual bi-monthly report of the payrolls of the country. The latter usually furnishes the most accurate data as to industrial activities, but it was thought best to make a quicker survey for immediate use.

John B. Denscore, Director of the United States Employment Service, said that he had no figures available now which would permit him to estimate the number of idle in the country. A statement issued 4 weeks ago by the American Federation of Labor placed the number at 2,000,000. Since that time stagnation in industry has increased with a consequent increase in the unemployed. Some statisticians estimate that the number of unemployed reaches 2,750,000.

FISHES BEFORE 'OPEN FIRE'

Boston Man Builds House on Raft to Carry on Sport in Winter

Boston, Mass., Dec. 27. Edward W. Jacques, member of the Milton Yacht Club, believes that fishing through ice is the hobby of hobbies for the winter sportsman. To that end he has built for himself from his own designs a house on a raft so that he can fish through the floor of his living room while sitting "before his open fire" enjoying his pipe and all the comforts of home.

This novel idea of Mr. Jacques has made such a hit with his cronies that he has felt compelled to enlarge on his original plans, with the result that today four persons can fish at the same time. The craft is 18 feet in length and 8 feet wide, with the fishing room extending out over the water on one side.

Spends $1,350,000 in Year; Seeks Guardian For Unspent $150,000

Chicago, Dec. 28.—George R. Steger, treasurer of the Steger & Sons Piano Manufacturing Company, whose fortune, was estimated at $1,500,000 a year ago, admitted in court yesterday that he was not able to manage his estate. His brother, Chris G. Steger, president of the piano company, was named conservator of his affairs.

He admitted on the stand that he had run through $1,000,000 in the last year and that his present estate of $500,000 is incumbered with $350,000 liabilities.

"It just slipped through my fingers" he testified. 'I can't tell what became of it."

GETS BIG ESTATE

Shop Hand, Veteran of Belleau Wood And Argonne, Wins $1,710,000

Greenville, S. C., Dec. 28.—From an acetylene welder in a motorcar repair shop to a millionaire is the step taken within the past few days by George A. Wiseheart, Jr., of Greenville and Charlotte, N. C., as a result of an estate of about $200,000,000 being cleared up after having been in litigation for more than 100 years.

The money comes from a great-great-grandfather, named Burphy, whose given name even George admits he has forgotten, but whose wealth is real nevertheless, consisting of several "country blocks" in the city of Philadelphia.

"The same George, but with one of the finest welding shops in the city," is the way George explained the position in which he soon will find himself. His business motto will be, "Let George do it," he said.

Geo. A. Wiseheart, Sr., of Louisville, Ky., father of Mr. Wiseheart, will be the recipient of one-third of the $200,000,000 estate, it is understood Of this amount $15,385,000 will be divided among nine children, of which the acetylene welder is one. This will give him around $1,710,000, it is figured.

During the fourteen months Mr. Wiseheart was overseas he served with the Third, Second, Thirty-second and Sixth divisions. having been wounded in the Argonne. He served in the Belleau Wood and the Marne offensives and was commissioned first lieutenant while in the service.

CHICAGO'S HOPES BLASTED

Chicago, Dec. 28.—The hopes of New Year's Eve celebrants, accelerated by a recent police announcement that the city force was too busy in its crime clean up campaign to disturb carriers of "hip" liquor, received a blow yesterday when Chas. F. Clyne, District Attorney, announced preparations for a dry welcome for 1921.

Department of Justice and internal revenue agents will inspect drinks in all cafes. according to Mr. Clyne, and places named in recent injunction proceedings are especially warned. Federal agents have been instructed to arrest every person caught carrying liquor on the street or in cafes, he said.

REQUEST TO MAKE BEER FOR MEDICINE PURPOSES

Milwaukee, Dec. 28.—A Wisconsin brewery has asked permission to make beer for medicinal purposes, it was announced yesterday by Nelson A. White, Chief Inspector in the office of Thomas A. Delaney, Prohibition Director. The request was refused tentatively.

Several physicians had told Mr. Delaney that there were certain cases in which they preferred to prescribe ber instead of whisky.

HOME BREW HAS BIG KICK, SAYS DRUG CHIEF

Boston, Dec. 28.—Those Massachusetts citizens who brew their own intoxicating liquors have not improved the product 15 1/2 months of practice, Herman C. Lythee, chief of the division of food and drugs of the State Department of Health, said in his annual report today. "It's all raw stuff," he added.

The home brews, however, developed more kick this year, 1,429 samples reaching the State health authorities showing an average increase in alcoholic content from 13.54 last year to 29.40 in the last twelve months.

New Flu Epidemic Very Unlikely, Says Cumming

Washington, Dec. 28.—Influenza attacks carry with them a definite immunity to subsequent attacks, lasting several years, according to conclusions reached by the Public Health Service after intensive study, in the homes where the disease was epidemic in 1918-19.

"Inasmuch as the epidemic of 1918 and 1919 affected so very large a proportion of the population" the statement by Surgeon-General Cummings added, "there would seem to be reasonable grounds for believing that even should flu become prevalent here and there this winter it would not assume the epidemic proportion" of the past two years, nor would it rage in such severe form."

Hildebrand Rearrested On Gang Murder Charge

Morganton, N. C., Dec. 28.—After the rearrest yesterday of Baxter Hildebrand on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Glenn Lippard in November, Solicitor R. L. Huffman made public an alleged confession from Dock Hefner, one of the three defendants convicted last week and sentenced to the penitentiary.

According to the alleged confession, Hefner declared he was an eye witness to the murder of Lippard and that he was killed by Lone Young and Baxter Hildebrand, the former shooting him in the back with a pistol and the latter hitting him over the head with his pistol after he had been shot.

Lone Young was convicted of second degree murder in connection with the killing, as were also Dick and Cecil Hefner, brothers. All were sentenced to long terms in the penitentiary.

Rome, Dec. 28.—Baron Mayor des Planches, former Italian Ambassador to the United States, is dead, it was announced here yesterday morning.

U. S. Should Initiate Movement to Disarm World, Says Daniels

Washington, Dec. 28.—The United States, if it does not enter the league of nations should intiate a movement looking to an international conference for the reduction of armaments, Secretary Daniels, of the Navy Department, said last night. If an agreement is not reached by all nations for such a program, the secretary added, "the United States should have a navy second to none."

The question of disarmament also was discussed in the Senate yesterday Senator Johnson, Republican, California, declaring that a disarmament agreement by the nations who constituted the five allied and associated powers in the world war would constitute "the one great step that could be taken toward the promotion of peace and the prevention of all future wars."

Secretary Daniels in his statement last night declared that his naval estimates recently submitted to Congress called only for minor vessels and expressed approval of the general board's building program only in the event that the United States does not enter the league of nations or become a party to an international agreement to limit armaments.

The naval secretary advocated legislation similar to that in the 1916 naval appropriation bill which authorized President Wilson to appoint a commission of nine members to represent the United States at an international armament conference.

"If we do not want the league of nations," said Mr. Daniels, "we ought to have a conference purely on the subject of reduction of armaments. Every nation that has joined the league has promised this, and all they need now is to get us in. Unless there is some such agreement the United States should have a navy second to none. This is the reason that I have advocated the sinking of the German fleet in mid-ocean as an object lesson to all the world that it is unhealthy to build great armaments for purposes of conquest."

Negro Kills Man And Girl; And Wounds Five Others

Wilson, Ark., Dec. 28.—Armed with an automatic shotgun and an automatic pistol, Charley Giles, negro, 40 years old, is believed to be hiding today somewhere near the Mississippi river after killing O. T. Craig, a Mississippi county planter, and his daughter, Mrs. Mahbell Wilson, and seriously wounding Craig's two sons, Dick and Hugh, Saturday.

Giles also fired upon and slightly wounded three deputy sheriffs, who were among those who went in pursuit of him. It is believed the negro, who was a share cropper on the Craig farm, is attempting to escape into Mississippi, from which State he came to Arkansas several months ago.

Four men, the youngest 18, and the eldest 24 years old, were given maximum sentences of from 10 to 20 years imprisonment when found guilty of robbery yesterday in the court of general sessions. Judge Rosalsky in pronouncing sentence, said pleas of leniency would be of little avail in his court and that law breakers hailed before him should expect the "limit" if convicted.

The four men convicted were William Karstein, 18, charged with the holdup and robbery of a laundryman; John Bataglio, 24, charged with the holdup and robbery of a wine dealer; Joseph Port, 22 and Asa Ganin, 22 charged with the holdup of a lower East Side resident.

Valuable heirlooms, among them a gold medallion believed to have been originally the property of Mary, Queen of Scots, were stolen [illegible] night from the West End Avenue apartment of E. C. Kavanagh, a connoisseur.

The medallion, similar in design to the medallion of the Queen's rosary, which is held by one of Kavanagh's friends, was to have been presented to the Metropolitan Museum of Art this week.

An antique gold watch studded with diamonds and 16 diamond pins valued at several thousand dollars also were taken.

Police say they found $50,000 in checks and drafts strewn about the opened chest, which was left by the thieves with the key in the lock.

DENIES RED THREAT

Constantinople, Dec 28.—Rumors that concentration of Russian Soviet troops in the region of the Dneister River was with aggressive intent against Rumania were denied on Saturday by George Tchitcherin, Russian Bolshevik Minister of Foreign Affairs, in a wireless dispatch to the Rumanian Foreign Office. M. Tchitcherin declared it was necessary for the Soviet forces to take up winter quarters there, owing to the situation along the front.

Complaint that the Rumanians were delaying peace negotiations, which were recently proposed by the Moscow government, was made by the Foreign Minister.

WOMAN BURGESS TRIES FIRST CASE AS JUDGE

Washington, Pa., Dec. 28.—Burgess Lillian Brownlee, of Washington, was called upon yesterday to perform her first official duty, when, acting as Police Court magistrate, she gave a hearing to Emil Kapp, brought up on a charge of intoxication. Mrs. Brownlee was recently appointed Burgess by the court to succeed her husband, Edwin P. Brownlee, who died a short time ago.

The court was thronged with spectators when Burgess Brownlee took her place behind the official desk and was confronted by Kapp. The culprit informed the woman official that he had been high on the water wagon for three years, but fell off in celebrating Christmas.

The new Burgess apparently placed no premium on Kapp's long period of repression, for, after recommending that he abstain for another three years, assessed him a fine of $5 and told him that if he was brought up on the same charge again the amount would be greatly increased. Kapp paid his fine without comment.

U. S. DRAFT DODGER LIST SHRINKS TO 173,911 NAMES

The list of draft dodgers on file at the War Department now totals only 173,911 names, Secretary Baker announced today.

The announced intention of the department to publish the names will not be carried out, it was stated, until it has been established beyond all doubt that the men actually are deserters. The list originally contained 489,003 names it was pointed out, but continued investigation is reducing the number daily.

NEW HARBOR STRIKE LOOMS

New York, Dec. 28.—The Harbor Boatmen's Union voted last night to reject the new working agreement for 1921 tendered by 600 independent owners and to go on strike January 1. Arthur Olsen, secretary of the union, declared 2,200 men will be affected.

Coincident with the announcement that the harbor boatmen would strike, a committee of the Masters, Mates and Pilots' Union, claiming a membership of more than 2,500, declared that its organization would join in the walkout.

Roads Won't Raise Rates Any More, Is Opinion of Cuyler

New York, Dec. 28.—The end of 1920 finds the railroads of the country with a record of having moved the greatest volume of traffic ever known in a single year with unprecedented expenditures for reconstruction and added facilities, with the highest pay roll and the most expensive future in their history—but with no intention of further burdening the public with increased rates.

Despite reports which have disturbed manufacturers, other producers and the public generally, Thos. Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railroad Executives, may be quoted as authority for the declaration that such an increased cost of traffic and travel will not be unloaded on the people.

"I know of no movement," said Cuyler, "on the part of the railroads for a general increase in rates, nor do I expect any. It is true that the railroad companies are not yet receiving from the recently increased rates anything like the 6 per cent return needed. But the railway executives realize that they are trustees of a great public interest in the reduction of railway operating expenses to the lowest possible figure, and every effort will be made during the coming year to accomplish this by further economy and efficiency."
